The forecast for rain and thunder held out for two days of fun and plunder as the Mystic Krewe of the Sea Horse hosted its seventh annual "Pirate Day in the Bay" this past weekend.

"It turned out to be a great weekend," Ginny Cabell — one of the Mystic Krewe's organizers — said. "I thought it was a record turn-out and we're so grateful … for the community, that they come out and support our events.

"We were very pleased with it. The turn-out was fabulous. The people really embraced the pirate spirit — they wore their outfits and just bedazzled the town."

The festival kicked off on Friday afternoon, with hundreds of people showing up to the krewe's "Pirate Central" tent at Beach Boulevard and Court Street to line up for the pub crawl and scavenger hunt through local stores, galleries and

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Hancock County Historical Society on Saturday hosted its second annual "What Floats Your Cardboard Boat" race, more than doubling the turn-out it enjoyed for its inaugural event last year.

"I thought it went very well," event organizer Chris Roth said. "We had 30 boats registered, with a lot of variety. We had good adult participation and good kid participation. We had a big crowd out there. It was a big success for the Hancock County Historical Society and the city of Bay St. Louis.

"We had a great team of people working out there. From my point of view, it was a great event. The crew did a good job managing the races, and the participants all looked like they had a good time."

The competition included about 30 handmade cardboard vessels, including a pirate ship, an aircraft carrier, a gondola, and several different styles of rowboats.

Contestants had to make their boats entirely out of cardboard and paddle them 150 feet out, round two buoys and return to the beach without sinking or capsizing.

"I think it was a lot of fun," event emcee Beau Gex said Saturday. "There's a lot of ingenuity that went into these boats. These people's creativity is just amazing."

This year's event partnered with the seventh annual Pirate Day in the Bay, hosted by the Mystic Krewe of the Sea Horse (MKOTSH).

"The historical society's cardboard boat race was a great tie-in," Pirate Day volunteer Ginny Cabell said. "It was a lot of fun."

Ochnser - Hancock to close labor/delivery dept.

ECHO STAFF

Ochsner Medical Center — Hancock's labor and delivery department is set to close at the end of this month.

Hancock County's acting administrator Jimmie Ladner said Tuesday that Ochsner notified the county last month.

He said it was his understanding that it was due to a lack of use and that the county does regret the closure.

However, he said, labor and delivery services are not part of the lease agreement the county has with the hospital.

Ochsner-Hancock will close the labor and delivery department at the end of May.

In an email to the Sun Herald, Tim Riddell, Ochsner's regional medical director for the Mississippi Gulf Coast, said, "As the healthcare needs of our communities has changed over time, we must continually evolve our service offerings to better meet those needs today and in the future. While we will no longer be offering labor and delivery services at Ochsner Medical Center — Hancock, we remain committed to providing women's and children's care."

BY GEOFF BELCHER

While the Pirate Day in the Bay celebration was going on in Old Town Bay St. Louis on Saturday, The Arts, Hancock County hosted huge crowds all day long in the Depot Arts District for the triumphant return of its ArtsAlive! celebration.

"We were thrilled," Lea Ellison said, vice-president of The Arts, Hancock County, and ArtsAlive! coordinator, said. "We were thrilled, and we could not have done it without wonderful, wonderful volunteers. Thank you! Thank you! Thank you! Something like this is never a solo effort, it's always a community effort."

ArtsAlive, Hancock County's premiere arts festival, celebrates art by showcasing some of the region's best professional artists.

It got its start back in 2004 as a studio tour of members of The Arts, Hancock County. Over the years, the festival grew to encompass all of Old Town Bay St. Louis, with artists exhibiting in multiple media all over the downtown area. The 2019 fest drew more than 5,000 visitors, but the COVID-19 pandemic curtailed the event for 2020 and 2021.

The Arts board of directors determined to bring the festival back in a bold new way for 2022.

"We moved to the Depot Arts District, which is an area of town that is growing by leaps and bounds," Ellison said. "We were very pleased to be able to do that, because we're building our studio and design center there," at the former Carter Church Studio on Sycamore Street, donated to The Arts by Mamie Hillery.

Bay hires new public works director

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Bay St. Louis City Council on Tuesday voted to accept Mayor Mike Favre's recommendation to hire Ronnie Vanney Jr. as the city's new public works and utilities director.

Vanney, the son of the Bay's former long-time Public Works Director Ron Vanney Sr., formerly worked for Digital Engineering.

"I think Ronnie brings a lot of infrastructure experience to the city," Favre said. "I'm looking to get started. … He brings a world of experience to us and we're looking forward to working with him."

Also onTuesday, the council approved measures for the city to seek up to $1.8 million in a negotiable note "for the purpose of providing funds for debris removal and disposal, repair or replacement of public streets, roads and bridges, storm drains, water and sewer facilities and other public buildings, facilities and equipment," according to the resolution.

Favre said much of the funding will be for "repairs to the harbor, related to (hurricanes) Zeta and Ida — 90 percent of that is reimbursable by FEMA. It's mostly for dredging coming into the harbor and electrical work. That's the main two things. We're looking forward to getting these things taken care of so the marina keeps on thriving."

The council shot down a resolution to seek a general obligation note not to exceed $700,000 for "emergency" repairs.

"I just don't like taking loans if we don't have to," Councilman-at-Large Gary Knoblock said.

Knoblock said the council had asked city Comptroller Sissy Gonzales for budget projection, "and she was projecting a surplus of $1.5 million that's not even on the books yet."

"The (BSL) Little Theatre was very kind to let us set up there and … we were able to use the Community Hall for our student art exhibit, which we did in conjunction with Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County. The Friends had invited about 300 students to submit their artwork of animals, and some of them were quite amazing."

The Community Hall also served as the site for teaching artists and artisans, as well as the location for the culinary dessert competition.

"It was a very busy day," Matt Stieffel, another of the festival's volunteers, said. "We definitely had some crossover with the Pirate Day folks coming in, but it was big.

The Arts, Hancock County, on Saturday hosted the return of the ArtsAlive! celebration.

"The new space, moving into the historic Depot Arts District, everything worked out well. … The culinary competition, everything was very well-attended."

"The people who were there seemed to be having a good time and I saw a lot of smiles," Ellison said.

Next year's event should be much larger, she said.

"ArtsAlive 2023 is going to be bigger and better, because at that point, we hope to be able to use the Depot grounds themselves, which are under construction right now. We hope to have an expanded site next year and we hope to have more artists, more performers."

The old Bay St. Louis Police Department was demolished in November 2020 due to extensive black mold infestation.

The Bay P.D. is currently housed in the city hall building on Hwy. 90, but quarters there are a little cramped, officials say. Mayor Mike Favre said the city intends to build the new department at the site of the old one, at the corner of Hwy. 90 and Main Street.

The new public safety complex is "very much needed," Favre said, "not just for our police department, but for the community, as well. It's long overdue."

"They came up with $2 million through grants," Favre said. "The other $2.5 million will come through our general fund to fully fund the project."

The new complex is expected to be approximately 10,000 square feet and will provide state-of-the art facilities for employees and citizens, including booking areas, holding cells, interview rooms and a forensics processing facility.

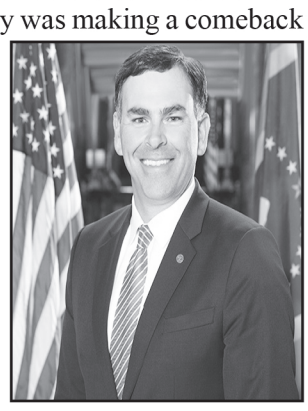
Conservation Takes All of Us

Over the last few decades, Mississippi has weathered the impacts of numerous natural disasters which have strained our state's infrastructure, public lands, waterways, wildlife, and farmland.

Our fisheries and seafood industry took a $215 million hit due to repeated openings of the Bonnet Carre' Spillway in 2019, according to the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources. The disturbance occurred just as the industry was making a comeback from the catastrophic effects of Hurricane Katrina, which according to a Mississippi State University Extension Center assessment, included another estimated total damage of $101 million to Mississippi seafood processing plants and seafood dealers.



Guest Column
By Mississippi Secretary of State Michael Watson.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is not the only region feeling a continuous strain on its local ecosystem. Flooding has critically impacted the Yazoo Backwater Area (YBA) nearly every year since 2002, including a record-breaking flood in 2019. A report prepared for the Mississippi Levee Board documented more than three million feet of cottonwood sawtimber died or showed severe degradation due to the 2019 flood. It was also estimated that over 500 deer died on the YBA levee system from mid-June to early August 2019. On top of that, highways were rendered impassible, homes and businesses were destroyed, and two Mississippians lost their lives.

These instances only represent a small glimpse of the struggles our state has endured in recent years. As State Lands Commissioner and trustee of the state's tidelands, the need for a concerted effort to preserve Mississippi's greatest assets has become a top priority, which is why I assembled the Conservation Task Force. Comprised of some of the brightest minds in the country who serve as experts on wildlife and natural resources, we began meeting in 2021 with the same goal in mind— to develop a statewide conservation plan and explore viable funding options for improvements across the state.

Additionally, I was pleased to see the passage of the Mississippi Outdoor Stewardship Act during the 2022 Legislative Session, which included an initial appropriation of $10 million for the Outdoor Stewardship Trust Fund. With a seat at the Board of Trustees' table, I believe our Task Force can significantly contribute to the conversation of preservation and enhance efforts to achieve our conservation goals with all Mississippians in mind.

While conservation efforts are often misconstrued as a partisan talking point, in reality, safeguarding our state's natural resources should be a priority for all Mississippians.a

Hancock History:
World War II: The Western European Front

After the Allies landed their armies on the beaches of Normandy, France; the Allied Forces moved through France and Belgium, but were stopped at the Siegfried Line at the Rhine River. Several soldiers in that army came from Hancock County and their stories are the subject of this column. Lt. Dave McDonald commanded a rifle company unit that cleared out antitank mines by the soldiers crawling at night on their bellies, feeling and disabling the trip wires that were designed to detonate the explosion. He is credited with overtaking a pillbox issuing deadly machine gun fire on his men. A well-placed smoke bomb obscured the German line of sight so that McDonald and his men could rush the pillbox and drop a hand grenade down the air vent. The explosion ripped off the back of one German soldier. Subsequently, six other German soldiers came out of the pillbox, willing to surrender.

David "Dave" McDonald (1922-2009), was fighting in the Battle of the Bulge in January 1945. One morning at about 3 a.m., McDonald and his men infiltrated the advancing German line and accidently bumped into a German dugout. A German sentry confronted McDonald, who raised his rifle to shoot the sentry. The sentry panicked and jumped behind a tree in the snow and pleaded "nicht schuttze" (Don't shoot! Don't shoot!) The sentry was persuaded to gather the other soldiers in the dugout, and McDonald took 60 prisoners back across the line. Lt. Dave McDonald was awarded the Bronze Star for bravery.

Another soldier from Hancock County was Sergeant Frank "Bud" Trapani (1927-2021), who was also engaged in the Battle of the Bulge. He had trained at Camp Shelby. Shortly before the battle, Trapani encountered Lt. Dave McDonald in the dark just outside their military camp. As the story goes, Trapani shouted out in the dark night, "Halt, who goes there?" Dave answered, "Lt. Dave McDonald." Frank then queried, "Is that a New Orleans accent I hear? Where are you from?" Dave responded, "Bay St. Louis, Mississippi!" According to this often told tale, Trapani came out of the shadows and exclaimed, "Dave, my boy, I thought that was you!" Then he gave the man a big bear hug.

During the Battle of the Bulge, Sgt. Frank Trapani was captured by the Germans and sent to a prison of war camp for the duration of the war. The prisoners were given one rotten potato a day to eat. On one occasion, one of the prisoners in Trapani's cubicle died, but the other prisoners did not tell the guards immediately so they could eat his ration of potato. In his prayers Trapani vowed to give up Coke if he survived this ordeal. He did survive, returned to Bay St. Louis, gave up Coke, reared a family, and owned and operated the popular Knock Knock

The Tax Advantages of Owning A Boat

Owning a boat is a way of life for many Mississippians. Just observe many of our state's waters on a bright, sunny weekend and you will see for yourself. And during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, it was one of the primary mechanisms for people to socially distance, and provide some tasty, healthy food for their friends and families to enjoy.

Wildlife Mississippi wants boaters to know that as long as your boat or vessel meets the criteria for a second home, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) can provide a deduction for you.

For tax purposes, many boats–especially many of those that are used along the Mississippi Gulf Coast–qualify as second homes just like land-based vacation condos and mobile homes. If you have a secured loan on that vessel, the IRS allows a tax deduction on the interest paid on the loan.

The IRS defines a second home as having "basic living accommodations such as sleeping space, toilet, and cooking facilities." A secured loan is one where a lending institution holds the boat as collateral for the loan.

Interest paid on the qualified loan should be reported on the federal income tax return Form 1040, Schedule A, Itemized Deductions. Boat owners who received a 1098 form from their lender should enter the amount of interest paid on line 10. If they did not receive a 1098 form, they should enter the amount on line 11 and provide the lender's name, address, and tax identification number. For more specific tax information, boat owners should consult their own financial or tax advisors or visit the IRS website at www.irs.gov. IRS Publication 936 also covers rules for interest deductions.

BoatU.S. is the nation's leading advocate for recreational boaters and provides its 550,000 members with a wide array of consumer services including a group-rate marine insurance program that provides over $8 billion in hull coverage; the largest fleet of more than 500 towing assistance vessels; discounts on fuel, slips, and repairs at over 700 Cooperating Marinas; boat financing; and a subscription to BoatU.S. Magazine, the most widely read boating publication in the U.S.

convert to ZenLabs private label product line.

According to the bill for the Mississippi Medical Cannabis Act program, Newman said, a retail dispensary license would be applicable to the commercial zoning.

In order to process at the facility, the city had to grant a variance to the existing zoning ordinance or adopt a change in the ordinance because processing facilities and growing facilities are limited to agricultural and industrial zones.

However, Waveland resident Ann Steinmetz asked if ZenLabs would be producing non medical cannabis products?

Newman said that, while ZenLabs is also a CBD provider, "there will be absolutely no non medical marijuana products processed in this facility."

Waveland's Planning and Zoning Commission recommended approval of the conditional use.

Ward 1 Alderman Jeremy Burke spoke about the site and the fact that it abuts a residential neighborhood.

"If I was in the neighborhood, I don't believe that I would want clientele to be able to have access to Old Spanish Trail from the property," he said.

At the March meeting, Newman said that they have plans to block the thoroughfare off, get rid of the ATM, install a privacy fence, and utilize the video surveillance equipment already installed at the bank.

The motion to approve the use also included stipulations that access to the back of the property be restricted to deliveries and employees.

In other action:

The board approved a motion to request bids for repairs to Waveland's Veterans Memorial, located at the end of Coleman Avenue on Beach Boulevard.

The board also approved a motion to advertise for request for quotes for the design of the Waveland Marina project. The city was recently awarded $350,000 in Public Trust Tidelands funds, which are earmarked for planning and design.

Waveland Election Commissioner Brenda McComb discussed the upcoming municipal election, and after speaking with the attorney in the election division with the Secretary of State's office, discovered that Waveland had been having its primary elections on the wrong dates by hosting it in November instead of October.

City attorney Malcolm Jones said he discovered the same thing after his research. He said he has prepared an ordinance for the board to adopt at its first meeting in June, which will have the qualifying deadline, the date of the primary, as well as the date of the general election.

The board approved a request from the Waveland Police Department to host a community policing/youth outreach program "Fishing with the Fuzz" on July 30 at Buccaneer Park from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Jones also provided an update on the Coast Inn, located at the corner of Highway 90 and 603. He said he has spoken with the new owners, who are in the process of obtaining a contractor in order to demolish the hotel.

The next meeting is scheduled for June 7 at 6:30 p.m.

The Baxter Family lost Lieutenant Hermann Myrtille Baxter (1921-1944) when he was killed in action at Frelenberg, Germany. A mortar shell landed at his feet while he was trying to rescue a wounded soldier. He was posthumously awarded the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star Medals.

Sgt. John William (Jack) Baxter (1922-2015) served with the 99th Infantry Division in Belgium, receiving the Combat Infantry Badge and the Bronze Star Medal. Unfortunately, he developed trench foot while on the front line just before the Battle of the Bulge and was removed to a U.S. hospital in England. However, days later his unit was hit badly and suffered many casualties.

Sgt. Leo William Seal Jr., (1924-2009) served in the United States Army, which included 20 months in the European theater of this conflict. He entered the army at age seventeen and achieved the rank of sergeant, stationed in Reims, France. He was assigned to an engineering unit, responsible for repair and maintenance of tanks, jeeps, and trucks. As President of the Hancock Bank in 2004, he sponsored the placement of a World War II Memorial to honor approximately fifteen hundred men and women in Hancock County who served their country. CHERYL ANN MING PROBST

Cheryl Probst, 73, native of Waveland, MS and a resident of Gonzales, LA passed away on May 15, 2022, surrounded by her family and friends.

Cheryl was born on June 26, 1948 to Harvey Elvin Ming and Elva Annie Cuevas Ming in New Orleans, LA and immediately brought joy and laughter into the world. Cheryl graduated from St. Joseph's Academy in Bay St. Louis, MS. After graduating from high school, Cheryl went on to pursue a degree in nursing at New Orleans Charity School of Nursing. She fell in love with this profession which was the beginning of her 40 year career. She spent 30 years at Our Lady of the Lake Regional Medical Center Emergency Department during which she obtained a Certification in Emergency Nursing (CEN). She mentored and molded new nurses and physicians into excellent, compassionate caregivers. She and her daughter, Amy and Debbie Enicke also founded the Emergency Nursing Documentation System (ENDS) company.

Cheryl loved everyone just as they were and unconditionally. She was known as mama to many who loved her and were mentored by her. She was a beautiful soul with a joy for life and a smile that would light up a room. She is survived by her daughter, Amy Probst Coppola and her husband, Don Coppola, Jr., and three grandsons, Austin Gautreau, Mark Coppola and Bryan Coppola. She also had a bonus daughter, Shay King Saltzman and her husband, James "Coco" Saltzman.

Cheryl loved to read, travel, cook, listen and dance to music, and play in her beautiful flowerbeds. Family came first to Cheryl, a value she instilled in all those around her. The hole left by her absence is impossible to fill. Cheryl was predeceased by her parents. She is survived by her brother, Harvey Elvin Ming, Jr. and wife, Georgette and nephews. She will be missed by her cousins, family, special group of beach ladies (BBC) and friends.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation in Cheryl's name to St. Jude's Children Hospital.

MEET CORAL.

This beautiful, sweet natured Pittie princess was abandoned at the shelter after hours. Anything could have happened to her overnight, but we are just thankful she is safe and thriving in our care. However, Coral is ready to join her forever home, and be part of a real family, who will protect her and love her unconditionally. This baby is approximately 2 years old, and of medium stature, (40 lbs). She is a most loving and affectionate girl, and is all about pleasing everyone around her. She has many doggie friends at the shelter, and enjoys romping-n-playing in our exercise yard with her pals. We highly recommend a home with a fenced backyard for lots of playtime and outdoor fun. Coral has not met any kids while at the shelter, but her personality is such that we feel that she would love joining a family with children. We are unsure if Coral is house or crate trained, but she does keep her kennel clean. If you are looking for a loving companion and furbaby, please stop by and meet this happy gal during our visiting hours, Mon-Fri 10am-3pm (Tues 1pm-3pm), or call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule an appointment. Please bring your dog (s) and children to the meet-n-greet to ensure compatibility.

2021 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report

Standard Dedeaux Water Association
PWS#: MS 0230063
May 2022

We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Quality Water Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water.

If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact Linda McKay, Administrator at 228.255.6800. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. Please attend meeting scheduled for the second Tuesday of each month at 6:00 PM at 24084 Standard Dedeaux Road, Kiln, MS 39556.

Our water source is from wells drawing from the Graham Ferry Formation Aquifer. The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing upon request. The wells for the Standard Dedeaux Water Association have received lower susceptibility rankings to contamination.

We routinely monitor for contaminants in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. This table below lists all of the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the period of January 1st to December 31st , 2021. In cases where monitoring wasn't required in 2021, the table reflects the most recent results. As water travels over the surface of land or underground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive materials and can pick up substances or contaminants from the presence of animals or from human activity; microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife; inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm-water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming; pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm-water runoff, and residential uses; organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations and septic systems; radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. It's important to remember that the presence of these contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk.

In this table you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Action Level - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - The "Maximum Allowed" (MCL) is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - The "Goal"(MCLG) is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) – The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary to control microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) – The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk of health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a monthly basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. In an effort to ensure systems complete all monitoring requirements, MSDH now notifies systems of any missing samples prior to the end of the compliance period.

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Our water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead. The Mississippi State Department of Health Public Health Laboratory offers lead testing. Please contact 601.576.7582 if you wish to have your water tested.

All sources of drinking water are subject to potential contamination by substances that are naturally occurring or man made. These substances can be microbes, inorganic or organic chemicals and radioactive substances. All drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1.800.426.4791.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline 1.800.426.4791.

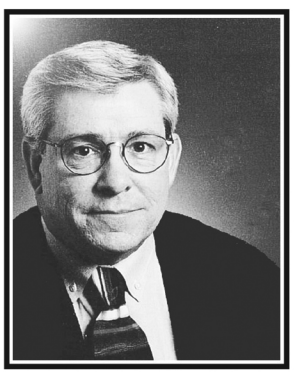
Discovering Our Core Values

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN



C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

How often, and how seriously, do we consider the core values of our lives? Across many years it has been my privilege and opportunity to consult with various organizations around our country and beyond. They were mostly congregations, but they also included municipalities, businesses, non profits and others. In virtually every instance the issue of values has been at the forefront of the discussion. The questions nearly always revolve around that which is of ultimate importance to the group. "Who are we?" "Who do we want to be?" "How can we get there?" These questions may inform goals, processes, attitudes and more, but they really relate to what is truly valued in the organization. "What do we really care about?"

Thinking about core values is more than merely formulating a business plan. It goes beyond improving the bottom line. It surpasses career strategies. Such thinking goes straight to the heart of identity.

The list of core values does not have to be long. There is no need to produce a thesis including all that we know on every issue before us. These values can be stated in a single sentence which articulates the heart of our existence. Interestingly, the words employed often include something of a spiritual content. This inclusion is in no way doctrinal. These are also not policy statements. What they do is establish the bedrock attitudes and commitments which define the soul of the organization.

Over the years it has been interesting to note that transformation begins to emerge within a group as they identify with these concepts. People discover the potential for a fresh and vital means of approaching their work. They recognize that their careers can become emboldened and strengthened by values which they approve and honor in their personal lives. It is also worth noting that organizational bottom lines have a way of improving when these matters are addressed.

These ideas are also appropriate for individual living. Too often decisions are made with little or no awareness or thought to the principles which guide us. Concepts such as honesty, fairness, integrity, diligence and more are of utmost importance in helping us make life decisions, and in the way we interact with the world around us.

Core values determine not only the direction, but the impact, of the way we live. These values are deeply individual, and they deserve to be seriously and profoundly considered. They give us insight into the kind of people we wish to be.

Are you clear about your own core values? It deserves some thought.

Area continues to churn out champions

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

For everything that changes across the campuses of Bay High, Hancock, Our Lady Academy, Pass Christian, and Saint Stanislaus, there is one thing that stays the same. That one thing remains championship caliber teams continuing to compete.

Throughout the 2021-22 school year, the various teams brought home 10 division titles, four South State titles, and four state championships to the area. Saint Stanislaus collected a Class I state championship in soccer and combined with OLA to win the state in sailing. OLA claimed the Class I state championship in soccer and Hancock win the Class III girls title.

Also, four South State titles were secured and 10 division crowns were claimed.

In football, Bay High advanced to the second round of the playoffs while Pass Christian and Saint Stanislaus advanced to the state playoffs. The Tigers were led by first team All-State RB Noah Cutter and SSC was paced by first team All-State RB Davien Lagarde and second team All-State selections C Joe Bradford, DT Jacob Bradford, LS Brandon Rhodes, and LB Ryan Tyler.

In volleyball, OLA won their 22nd division title and advanced to the Class I state championship while Hancock advanced to the second one round and Pass Christian advanced to the Class 4A state finals.

On the trails of cross country, SSC came in second in Class 3A and was led by individual state champion Keegan Leverett who also earned the Gatorade Mississippi Player of the Year in Cross Country. OLA placed fifth overall in Class 3A.

In swimming, both OLA and SSC each finished third overall at the state championships.

As the weather cooled, the preferred sports changed to soccer and basketball. The Rocks won their 12th state soccer championship and third in a row while OLA earned the top spot in Class I. SSC also brought home the division title and the Crescents were the #2-seed. The Bay High Tigers won the Division 8-4A title and advanced to the Class 4A state title game.

On the hardwood, the Lady Pirates won the division title while the Lady Hawks, Tigers, Pirates, and Rocks all advanced to the state playoffs.

In late January, the Lady Hawks successful defended their Class III state championship in bowling and had two All-State players in MacKenzie Conway and Alissa McGill.

In sailing, the combined team of SSC/OLA won the Mississippi Fleet Racing title and the Mississippi Team Racing title.

On the tennis court, SSC/OLA won the Division 8-3A title and advanced to the Class 3A South State championships. In the individual state tennis tournament, the mixed doubles team of Omar Tayara/Jacqueline Mossy won the state title, as well as the SSC boys doubles team of Roman Guerrero/Bobby Hebert. The OLA girls doubles team of Abby Whaley/Nathalia Mossy also won the state title.

In baseball, the Rocks claimed the Division 8-3A title and advanced to the Class 3A state quarter-finals for the fifth time in program history. The Hawks and the Pirates both qualified for the state playoffs.

On the softball diamond, the Bay High Lady Tigers won the Division 8-4A title and advanced to the second round of the state playoffs while Hancock also made the second round of the Class 6A state playoffs.

In track and field, the Rocks won the Division 8-3A title and finished in bronze position at regionals, south state, and the state championship meets.

Keegan Leverett was a triple winner for the Rocks in the 800m, 1600m, and 3200m runs with Class 3A state meet records in the 1600m and 3200m runs. Reinike signs with MGCCC

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

On Wednesday, May 18, Saint Stanislaus senior P/3B Tanner Reinike signed a National Letter of Intent to play baseball for Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College.

Reinike stated, "I am excited to get started at the next level of baseball, especially at MGCCC which is where many of my family members have attended. The academics of the school are unquestioned and the facilities are fantastic. They are expecting to keep me as a pitcher. I am looking forward to getting started."

This year on the baseball diamond, Reinike led the Rocks with 50 innings pitched and was tied for first with 54 strikeouts. He ended the year with a 5-2 record, a 3.20 ERA, and held opponents to a .221 batting average. At the plate, he batted .278 with 2 doubles, one triple, 27 RBI, and scored 19 runs.

SSC head baseball coach Brad Corley stated, "We are extremely proud of Tanner for getting the opportunity to pitch at the next level. He has been a huge reason for our success this year on the field. We know that he will represent Saint Stanislaus to the highest degree at MGCCC. We wish him the very best moving forward."

Reinike was also a three-year starter on the Rocks' soccer team that won three consecutive state championships. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and recently named to the All Division 8-3A baseball team.

How Memorial Day and Veterans Day differ from each other

Memorial Day and Veterans Day each honor the military, though the two holidays are not the same. Memorial Day, which is celebrated annually on the last Monday in May, honors the brave men and women who lost their lives while serving in the American military. Many communities host memorial ceremonies honoring their fallen soldiers on Memorial Day, ensuring such soldiers' bravery and sacrifices are never forgotten. While many people now view Memorial Day weekend as the unofficial start of summer, the weekend should not be celebrated without also pausing to reflect on and recognize the military personnel who lost their lives in defense of freedom and the American way of life.

Veterans Day is celebrated annually on November 11 and recognizes all men and women who have served in the military. Veterans Day coincides with Remembrance Day, which is a celebrated by the Commonwealth of Nations, an association of 53 member states with connections to the British Empire. Though Veterans Day and Remembrance Day are each celebrated on November 11, the latter recognizes armed forces members who died in the line of duty, making it more similar to Memorial Day than Veterans Day. It's not uncommon for people to recognize fallen soldiers on Veterans Day, but many use the holiday to express their appreciation to existing veterans.

3 Memorial Day weekend travel tips

Memorial Day weekend is one of the busiest travel weekends of the year. In 2017, the automotive group AAA estimated that 40 million Americans would travel 50 miles or more on Memorial Day weekend. Those estimates also projected that 34.6 million vehicles would be used to make those trips.

Often referred to as "the unofficial beginning of summer," Memorial Day and the weekend that precedes it has become synonymous with beach trips and backyard barbecues. Travelers who want to avoid traffic jams and ensure their weekends get off on the right foot can benefit from employing these three travel-savvy strategies.

1. Start the weekend early.

In its "State of American Vacation 2017" survey, Project: Time Off found that 662 million vacation days were unused in 2016. People traveling for Memorial Day who typically leave some vacation days on the table can start their weekends early this year. Many offices close early the Friday before Memorial Day, and workers who aren't so lucky may just leave work early, meaning Friday afternoon traffic figures to be heavy. By leaving Thursday afternoon or evening, travelers can avoid the Friday rush to the beach.

2. Take public transportation.

Travelers who can't take an extra day off or leave work early the Friday before Memorial Day may want to consider taking public transportation to their beach destinations instead of driving themselves. In 2016, the U.S.-based data firm Inrix noted that a traffic-free Friday jaunt from New York City to Long Island's East end would take 90 minutes, while the same trip would take three hours and 40 minutes on the Friday of Memorial Day weekend. Travelers who can't leave early can save themselves from the stress of holiday traffic jams by letting someone else do the navigating.

3. Be patient and depart on Saturday morning.

Travelers who can be patient may find that waiting to depart for their destinations until Saturday can save them from dealing with much of the stress of traveling on Memorial Day weekend. The benefits of being patient may depend on where travelers live, as the Inrix study noted that Friday was the busiest day to leave Los Angeles on Memorial Day weekend, while San Diego residents tended to deal with the most traffic on Saturday. An added benefit of waiting until Saturday is the likelihood that such travelers will not return home until Tuesday, avoiding traffic on Monday, which tends to be the busiest return travel day of the weekend.

Memorial Day weekend travel tends to be hectic. But savvy travelers with some flexibility can take steps to make their trips less stressful.

Interesting facts about Memorial Day

Memorial Day has a rich history and one that's worth revisiting as the nation prepares to honor the sacrifices made by its military personnel over the centuries.

Each year on the last Monday of May, Americans celebrate Memorial Day. Memorial Day is a federal holiday that honors and mourns American military personnel who died while performing their duties in service to the United States Armed Forces.

Memorial Day has a rich history and one that's worth revisiting as the nation prepares to honor the sacrifices made by its military personnel over the centuries.

• Freed slaves played a role in the establishment of Memorial Day. The American Civil War is the deadliest military conflict in American history, as the Union and the Confederacy each suffered more than 800,000 casualties by the time the war ended in 1865. According to History.com, as the war drew to a close, hundreds of Union soldiers who were being held as prisoners of war died and were buried in a mass grave in a Confederate prison camp in South Carolina. After the Confederate surrender, more than 1,000 now-freed slaves honored those recently deceased Union soldiers during a ceremony in which they sang hymns and distributed flowers. The ceremony was dedicated to the fallen soldiers and served as a precursor to what is now celebrated as Memorial Day.

• Confederate soldiers were honored, too. Confederate losses during the Civil War outnumbered Union losses, and those losses were not forgotten by southerners who survived the war. History.com notes that, in 1866, the Georgia-based Ladies Memorial Association, one of many similar organizations to arise in the aftermath of the war, pushed for a day to honor fallen Confederate soldiers. In fact, these efforts are believed to have influenced General John A. Logan. In 1868, General Logan, a Civil War veteran who was then serving as commander-in-chief of a group of Union veterans, ordered the decoration of Union graves with flowers on May 30. The day would ultimately be known as "Memorial Day."

• It took a long time for Memorial Day to become a federal holiday. Despite tracing its origins to the immediate aftermath of the Civil War, Memorial Day did not become an official federal holiday until 1971, more than a century after the war ended. This is the same year the holiday was officially designated as taking place on the last Monday in May. The designation has periodically drawn the ire of veterans and military supporters who suggest it is now more widely seen as the unofficial beginning to summer and not a day in which the sacrifices of fallen U.S. soldiers are honored to the extent that they should be.

• Debate exists about which town has the longest history of celebrating Memorial Day. A handful of towns claim to be the first celebrants of Memorial Day. That debate figures to continue in perpetuity, but History.com notes that Waterloo, New York, was officially recognized by U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson as the birthplace of Memorial Day in 1966. Doylestown, Pennsylvania, and Rochester, Wisconsin are some other towns that claim to have celebrated Memorial Day since the mid-1860s.

Memorial Day has a rich history that highlights the importance of honoring the men and women who have given their lives while in service of the United States military.

Diamondhead begins 'Village to Village' concept to aid seniors

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The city of Diamondhead last week introduced its new "Village to Village Concept" to help senior citizens "age successfully at home."

The Village to Village Concept is designed to be a hub "to bring every resource for seniors in one location," Diamondhead Mayor Nancy Depreo said Friday. "They can come for anything they need, bring volunteers to assist, whether it's driving someone to an appointment or bringing them to get something to eat or bringing everybody together to have social events.

The city kicked off the concept Friday with a free breakfast and learning session, followed by a free care fair that included health screenings and an opportunity to meet with healthcare providers, medicare and insurance experts and other potential resources for seniors.

The event was co-sponsored by the Southern Mississippi Planning & Development District and the State Health Insurance Assistance Program.

Depreo said the Village to Village concept — with neighbors caring for neighbors — started in Boston, Mass., and had spread to more than 400 locations across the country, including one in Louisiana and three in Alabama. Diamondhead's is the first in the state of Mississippi.

The goal of the "Senior Village" concept is to "allow residents the choice of continuing to live in their current home and community while sustaining an acceptable quality of life."

They are designed to be self-governing, grassroots, non-profit groups that coordinate access to affordable services for seniors, including transportation, health and wellness programs, technology support, home repairs, and social and educational activities.

The city will host a Pancake Day beginning at 9 a.m. this Friday, May 27, at Diamondhead City Hall, for residents 55 and older.
